

Making Good

Getting and Holding a Good Position

is largely a matter of the right kind of training. To be Bryant & Stratton trained is to have the RIGHT START towards success.

More than 25,000 students and graduates have gone forth from this institution to success and honor in the business world during the fifty-five years of its existence.

In the succeeding pages, note the number of young men and young women recently placed in positions.

What this school is constantly doing for hundreds of others, it can do for you.

B. & S.-R. I. BOYS GET CIVIL SERVICE APPOINTMENTS

Bryant & Stratton-Rhode Island Graduates are Making Good in Many Departments at Washington, as well as in Business. IT IS THE WORK OF THIS SCHOOL THAT COUNTS!

One of our boys, Mr. William Helme, who completed his course here several months ago, was appointed during February of this year as stenographer for the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington, D. C., at a salary of $1,200 per year.

In a recent letter to us, among other things, Mr. Helme wrote:

"I am leaving Providence today to accept a position with the Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington, D. C., at an initial salary of $1,200 per annum. Before leaving, I want as one of your graduates, to thank you for what you have done for me, in giving me such an excellent course of instruction and in securing for me the position I held in the office of the Armour Company, before I accepted this present one.

"In closing, I would like to impress upon the minds of all young people, that if they attend the Bryant & Stratton-Rhode Island Commercial School and show a desire to succeed, that you will not only give them an excellent course of instruction, but that you will assist them in getting profitably located."

Another of our young men graduates, Mr. Charles A. Locke, was recently appointed as stenographer to the Central Weather Bureau at Washington, D. C., at a splendid salary.

In a recent letter to the school, Mr. Locke, among other things, wrote:

"One month before graduating from the Night School, I was able to accept a position as stenographer for the American Electrical Works, where I remained until I received my present appointment as stenographer to the Central Weather Bureau at Washington, D. C. I took the civil service examinations on September 25, 1916 and about five weeks later was notified by telegram that I had been appointed to my present position.

"I am sure that any young man or young woman, who faithfully attends to the duties outlined by the Bryant & Stratton-Rhode Island Commercial School will attain results in the way of promotion and salary that will more than justify for the time and effort put into the work."

What Bryant & Stratton Training is doing for others it can do for You!

 MARY TOBIN—Beresford & Co. WILLIAM MCCAUSLAND—N. Y. N. H. & H. Ry.

It is my wish to extend to you my thanks for the pleasant and lucrative position which you obtained for me.

My position was obtained for me before I had completed the course I took at your school.

I can say without hesitancy that the Bryant & Stratton-Rhode Island Commercial School is THE school for business training.

Sincerely yours,
WILLIAM A. WATSON.

After being connected with your school for sixteen months, it gives me great pleasure to recommend the school as a thoroughly efficient and up-to-date business school. The instruction given is so complete that no detail of business routine is overlooked, and competence for any business office work is the result.

GERTRUDE M. MARBLE.

During the winter 1913 and 1914, I attended your Evening School and took the Business Course.

Through your up-to-date methods and the thorough instruction given by your large corps of instructors I was enabled to graduate in one winter. Before graduating you offered me a position at an unusually high salary.

I enjoyed my work at the school immensely.

Your interest in securing me a position could not have been greater, and I therefore say unhesitatingly that I owe my present position to your efforts.

MARY B. BARRY.

I wish to express my appreciation of the thorough course of instruction which I received at your school while a student with you for eight months, taking up the studies of shorthand and type-writing. Your teachers are so efficient and your methods so thorough that upon graduating I immediately secured the position, which I have held ever since.

EMMA L. GALLAGHER.

Kindly accept my sincere thanks for the excellent position that I have obtained almost entirely on your recommendation.

I heartily recommend your institution to anyone desiring a high-grade business education.

I have the honor to be,

Yours truly,
ROBERT B. HOUGH.

I want to thank you for the second position, which you have secured for me. As you know, you placed me with a large clothing establishment after I graduated from your School. One week before I was out of employment, owing to the firm having decided to discontinue business, your Employment Department secured for me another position at a much greater salary than the one I previously received.

ETHELDA L. MACK.

I was successful in securing the position to which you sent me today. I thank you for your promptness in securing me this position. I am at present, as you know, attending your Night School in the Business Department, but have not as yet completed the course. That you should secure for me—a student not yet a graduate of your school—such an excellent position is most gratifying.

MARION B. COOPER.

*When I decided to make a change of position I talked to you concerning same, and as usual you were interested in me and my future advancement.

I want to thank you for your assistance in securing for me the position with The Pequot Shirt Company, Westerly, R. I., which I shall take Monday next, January 15th. I am, as you know, making an excellent salary in my present position, but the new one, which you secured for me, pays me much more and my chances of advancement are infinitely greater.

Your efforts in always endeavoring to secure for me a better position will always be gratefully remembered.

HENRY C. BOWLER.

That I have thus far been very successful as a stenographer and bookkeeper is due to the fact that I received an excellent and thorough training in all subjects pertaining to business at your School.

C. H. WILLEMIN.

One month before graduating from the Bryant & Stratton-Rhode Island Commercial School, I was able to accept a position as stenographer for the American Electrical Works at Phillipsdale, where I remained until I received my present appointment as stenographer to the Central Weather Bureau at Washington, D. C., at $1,000 salary to begin.

I am sure that any young man or woman who faithfully attends to the duties outlined, will attain results in the way of promotion and salary that will more than justify for the time and effort put into the work.

CHARLES A. LOCKE.

I wish to thank you for your success in securing me my present position. I completed the Bookkeeping Course in seven and a half months and before graduating you secured me a position and you also sent me out to several temporary positions. After the excellent instruction I received at your school my work seems very easy.

I cannot speak too highly of the B. & S.-R. I. Commercial School and I certainly appreciate the exceptional services it rendered me.

GERTRUDE BOWEN.

After attending your school for a short period of four months, I accepted a position with the International Rubber Company, where I am at present employed. Since that time my salary has increased nearly three times that which I received before attending your school.

JOSEPH M. ROCKETT.

What the B. & S.—R. I. Commercial School has done for others, it can do for you.

We are indebted to various Typewriter Companies in this city for their co-operation in filling some of the above positions.

Just Among Ourselves

Waterman Fountain Pens were awarded as prizes for accuracy in typewriting to Misses Phebe Westcott, Rose Gorman, Florence Goff and Mr. Leland Spaulding, who wrote for ten minutes from new matter without a single error at a high rate of speed.

Miss Martha Jackson won a Remington Gold Medal for proficiency in typewriting on March 16th. Miss Jackson wrote for ten minutes from new matter at the rate of sixty-four words a minute, with but five errors. This is an excellent record for a student.

Keep your eyes on the records our Typewriting Department will make between now and the end of the school year.

Among the localities represented in the residences of the student body at present in attendance are Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Vermont, New Hampshire, Maine, New York, Ohio, Illinois and other states; Saskatchewan and Quebec, Canada; and Columbia, South America.

Miss Marion Horton accepted immediately upon graduation a position as private secretary to Dr. Frank T. Fulton.

Miss Alice Brayman, Narragansett Pier, was located immediately upon graduation with The Congdon & Carpenter Co.

We secured a position for Miss Mary Tobin shortly before graduation with Beresford & Co.

THE RIGHT START FOR YOU

Hundreds of the leading mercantile and manufacturing concerns all over the State, as well as elsewhere, are officered in whole or in part by Bryant & Stratton and Rhode Island graduates. They KNOW the thoroughness of the training students receive here, for they themselves graduated from one or the other of the schools composing the present institution.

These concerns are always ready to give first consideration to B. & S.-R. I. graduates as vacancies occur in their offices.

The 1,416 calls from employers during 1916 prove this!
